

Around here,
this is your 2 p.m. meeting.

Colorado means color in Italian. In Spanish it means red. In the fall at The High Lonesome Ranch, both meanings apply.

From colorful Aspens to red-hot bird hunting, the fall is a perfect time to work through the sage flats, creek bottoms, and oak brush. You'll find pheasant, chuckars, huns, and scaled and Gambel's quail busting out from under the nose of a staunch Elhew pointer. Warm up on our new Flurry, our Quail and Pheasant Walks and our Five Stand. Superb wingshooting. Outstanding dog work.

Addictive sporting clays. Patient guides. Contemporary ranch cuisine.

This fall, come on out to Colorado. Let's hunt 'em up.
